[Washington, May 27, 1851.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.—We are requested to state that all military companies and civic associations desiring to participate in the ceremonies of laying the corner-stone of the extension of the Capitol, are requested, as early as possible, to notify R. Wallach, esq., Marshal of the District of Columbia, who has been charged with the duty of making necessary arrangements for the occasion.

A PYROTECHNIC DISPLAY will be made on the night of the 4th, from the square south of the Presidential Mansion, under the direction of the Marshal. The time for preparation is brief, but an effective display will no doubt be made

It is with pleasure that we learn that the call of the Major General of the Militia of the District of Columbia for a meeting at the City Hall this day was responded to by gentlemen of public spirit attached to our corps of citizen soldiery, and that officers of the District companies of known activity will move at once in the necessary arrangements. The old Continentals of the Old Dominion will doubtless be represented from the farfamed revolutionary town of Petersburg, while Richmond will have its representation. Also, the old Maryland Line will be represented, by some of the descendants of that gallant band of revolutionary trial, from Baltimore and the contiguous counties. The military of the District, in accordance with their established usage, will of course yield all precedence to military visiters from a distance. The Petersburg boys, as their noble forefathers were wont to do, will push up for the point of activity to face the corner-stone of the enlarged Capitol, while loval Maryland will, through her military representatives, do the same; and the District companies will divide the marching honors between the two truly distinguished States.

It is understood that while the Commissione of the Public Buildings will take all necessary precautions to prevent accidents in the grounds of the Capitol, yet on such an occasion of public interest, where the President takes, as his illustrious predecessor Washington did, a prominent part, the public property will be properly protected by the assembled people themselves.

THE PERJURY CASE .- Henry Bute was yesterday convicted of perjury, and recommended by the jury to the mercy of the court; whereupon he moved, through his counsel, Messrs Key and Ratcliffe, an arrest of judgment for a new trial, for the following reasons, in addition to others alleged to be apparent on the face of the indictment, viz:

1st. Duplicity in this: that the injury is charged to be against the United States, and also the heirs and legal representatives of one Abraham Reman.

2d. Inconsistency in this: the indictment charges the injury to be to the heirs and legal representatives of one Abraham Reman, and then states the sirname of the said Abraham to be Remand.

3d. That whilst the indictment professes to be for false swearing, under the set of Congress of 1823, it charges the prisoner with perjury. A new wial is also prayed,

1st. The verdict is against evidence in this: and legal representatives of Abraham Reman, who is said to have been a soldier in the service of the United States, and by reason thereof entitled to a claim against the said United States. when the evidence shows the name of the real claimant to be Remin Abraham.

2d. Because of newly discovered evidence. To-day a number of petty cases, of negroes for larceny, have engaged the attention of the court.

CENTRE MARKET.—It was well attended this morning, and products were abundant. Basket. carriers bought at the following prices: lamb, per pound, 10 cents; mutton 8; veal 124; beef 121; hams 121; chickens 121@25 apiece; potatoes 40@62 a peck; cymlings 12@18 per dozen; eggs 18‡; butter 16@25; beets 6@8 per bunch; beans 31@50 per peck; cucumbers 25@37 per dozen; cabbages 3@8 per head; asparagus 10 per bunch; cherries 3 per quart; raspberries (black,) 10 do; (red) 12; blackberries 4@6; whortleberries 6@10; apples 25@37 per peck; apricots 16 cents per

Mr. R. J. TURNER .- This eminent vocalist, who has carried captive the hearts of all who have heard him in other cities, will give his first concert at Carusi's on Monday evening next. More need not be said to insure him a full and fashionable house. We have never known the success of a debutant to equal that which has everywhere attended him.

POLICE.—Three miserable and abandoned white women were found this morning, under the shade of some trees, on the outskirts of the city, where they had evidently encamped for the day. They had provided themselves with a pitcher of water and a big bottle of gin. They were already somewhat drunk. Officers Martin and J. F. Tucker took them before Justice Morsell, who sent them to the workhouse for thirty days.

A MISTAKE .- The announcement that Henry May, esq., will deliver the Fourth of July Oration at Piney Point, is, as we understand, a mistake. Richard H. Clarke, esq., of this city, has been invited by the proprietors to pronounce the oration.

boat to meet the President this afternoon, we understand there will be no music at the Presidential gardens.

DISTURBANCE AT THE PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.—The following memorial has been sent to the Secretary of the Navy, by the mechanics employed in this navy yard.

To the Honorable Secretary of the Navy : SIR: The undersigned mechanics and laborers employed in the Gosport navy yard, and other in expression : citizens of Portsmouth and Norfolk, would beg to call your attention to an order of the Commandant of the said yard, by which they think mandant of the said yard, by which they think themselves grievously oppressed and insulted. On the morning of the 23d instant, the men employed in the yard began to assemble for the purpose of going into the yard preparatory to the morning muster. Very much to their surprise they found the mota placed. prise they found the gates closed against them, admission refused prior to the ringing of the bell, in pursuance to an order issued that morning by the highest authority of the yard.

This order, creating a state of things incon-sistent with the practice of the yard since its foundation, produced great excitement, and the men refused to go to work. They immediately retired and held a meeting, at which they appointed a committee to wait on Captain String-ham to ascertain the reason for its issuance, and to urge its repeal. The committee waite on him in a respectful manner, and made known their business. He declined to annul the order, their business. He declined to annul the order, and stated that it was issued for the purpose of reventing stealing; thus adding insult we felt indignant that so disgraceful an imputation should be sought to be cast upon us. The character which we have, and the respect which we feel for ourselves, forbid that we again consent to work until the imputation of dishon-esty is removed. After their interview with the captain, the committee proceeded to Old Point and waited on the President. He exd much sympathy for us, but declined to act, as the matter came peculiarly under your notice. He referred us to you, and expressed a confident hope that our grievances would be speedily redressed. In pursuance of that recommendation, we end our committee to you. They will explain the whole matter. Its oppressive operations will be fully shown. To them, and for them, as our representative, we claim your calm attention and kind consideration. We feel that your kindness of heart will not permit a thousand men, respectable and gentlemanly as those who gave the order, to be wantonly and ruth-lessly insulted. We leave the matter in your hands. It is one requiring speedy action. The business of a whole community has been deranged, and the income of six hundred families entirely cut off. With you is the remedy.

PORTSMOUTH, Va., June 24, 1851.

None who know the character of the men mployed at the Portsmouth navy yard can suppress a feeling of indignation on perusing the above statement. They constitute a community of as decent, as just, as prudent, as moral, and as honorable men as exists throughout the wide extent of our land. The products of their skill and industry are the ornaments of our naval service. Through many years they have toiled faithfully in the service of the Government, and for every dollar they have ever received many a hard blow has been struck. A long succession of naval officers have had command of the station, and yet the kindest feelings have ever existed between them and the workmen of all grades. In many instances the attachment has been of the most ardent character, and the departure of commander has proved the cause of universal grief. Why is this state of things now interrupted? We do not wish to do wrong to Captain Stringham, but we believe that his conduct is unprecedented, and cannot be justified but by some very extraordinary revelations.

IMPRISONMENT FOR DEBT IN MARYLAND.—The Baltimore Clipper of yesterday says: "We understand that the prisoners now in jail for debt will be brought before Judge Le Grande in the county court on the morning of the 4th of July, on writs of habeas corpus, with a view to their immediate discharge. The new constitution expressly provides that on and after the 4th day of July 'there shall be no imprisonment for debt;' but some of the creditors of the debtors whom they have confined in jail contend that another article of the constitution guaranties that nothing in it shall affect debts contracted prior to its adoption, and have notified the warden of the jail that they will hold him responsible for the release of those debtors to the amount of their respective claims against McLane for the erection of handsome and spathem. The debtors in jail, on the other hand. threaten to sue the warden for illegal imprisonment, if he detain them beyond the 3d of July. It is in order to relieve the warden of any difficulties, that Judge Le Grand has consented to dispose of the question on that day.

THAT CANE AGAIN!-We have a decided relish for an epigram, and the following pleases. We do not know who perpetrated it, and, for the author's own sake, hope he will not reveal himself to either of the parties with whom he makes so free.

As the marine band are to go down in the control of Bob Latham having sent him a cane, out to meet the President this afternoon, we inderstand there will be no music at the President in the editorial columns of the Baltimore Sun; IMPROMPTU. But Bob, in good temper, laid the Sun on his table, And thus wrote a letter to its editor, Abell: Dear sir, if my walking-stick has given you pain, You're not the first Abel who was troubled by Cain.

THE PRESS.—In the eloquent address of our fellow-citizen, Mr. F. McNerhany, on the re-Ritchie a tribute of respect from the printers of the Union office, the following passage oc-curs, alike truthful in sentiment and beautiful

"The Press is the disseminator of light and intelligence. Before its lustrous power dark-ness and ignorance flee as the shadows of night before the effulgence of the rising sun. It is the Archimedian lever that moves the world. It is the handmaid of Science and Art and Literature. It is the palladium of our liberties— the bulwark of our institutions. It is emphati-cally "the People's Friend—the Tyrant's Foe." Wherever the press is honest, free, and unfet-tered, the thrones of tyrants will crumble, and totter, and fall; for the enlightenment such a press diffuses is all that the oppressed need to arouse them in resistance to tyranny. The press is the great power that impels the spirit of progress—that spirit which has secured for us an ocean-bound republic; which has made the "wilderness blossom as the rose;" which has lotted the land with churches and with schoolhouses; which has reared up cities and towns and villages, as if by magic; which has whitened every sea with the sails of commerce; which has spread a net-work of railroads across our wide-spread domain; which has linked distant points together with magnetic wires, commu nicating thought with the rapidity of light-ning; which has crowned us with power and dignity and glory as a nation, and given us a passport to the respect and admiration of the world."

We are soon to have a daily line from Leesourg to the Point of Rocks. This is a good time to agitate the question of a daily mail between the two places; it would be of great service to the business-men of the town.

BLANKETS .- We take occasion to mention some blankets that we saw a few days since from the Rock Bridge factory of Messrs. Pur-SEL & RUSSELL. They were manufactured from Loudoun wool, and for beauty of finish, fineness of texture, and general appearance, we think they cannot be excelled at any establishment, whether North or South. They also manu-facture many other kinds of goods that will acture many other kinds of goo bear comparison with the best of their kind.

ANOTHER REMOVAL .- We perceive that the abinet-making warehouse of Mr. CONNELLY, on the west side of 7th street, above H, is today being removed to the opposite side of 7th street, below H, to a lot purchased by Mr. C. The house is a two-story frame, 18 feet front, and 28 deep. Mr. Harry Thomas, of Georgetown, removes it for fifty dollars. The distance is, we think, about 200 yards.

THE FESTIVAL .- We would remind our readers that the ladies of the M. E. Church, south, are holding at Apoilo Hall a fair and festival, to which everybody should resort. These most excellent ladies are doing all in their power to render their hall agreeable to their visiters; and the objects they have in view commend themselves to the good will and liberality of every one. Among the attractions presented, however, the ladies themselves are to us the chief!

MR. MARTIN FARQUHAR TUPPER, F. R. S .-This gentleman has returned to England, and,

Oh "that mine adversary had written a book !" exclaimed the afflicted Job; and the ten thousand Jobs of the American press appear ever ready to make an adversary of any foreign author who comes among them. Tupper will write a book, and he will censure good deal. He is not so poor as Trollope, Fitler, and Dickens, and may not be tempted into writing merely to suit the British book-market; but he has all the ardent and unyielding prejudices so common to his countrynen, and his vision will be somewhat distorted by them. He will write a clever book ; but he will fancy his knowledge to be more accurate than it is, and he will expose many blunders nade by him in his hasty glance at our country.

What a blessing it would be if our editors ould only be induced to refrain from betraying their acute sensibilities on this particular occasion! The excitement they exhibit is what rovokes the satire under which they writhe.

PLEASANT RETREAT .- The Republic states that a company of gentlemen have purchased a beautiful grove, containing six acres, situated on the line of the Seventh street turnpike, about two miles from the Centre Market, and a few rods beyond the city boundary. A contract has been entered into with Messrs. Ager and cious buildings, with a front of seventy feet; and the work has already been commenced. The grounds are to be tastefully ornamented. and the arrangements generally will be such as to afford an attractive and pleasant summer

The Court-Martial for the trial of Gen. Talcott assembled yesterday in the Aldermen's Chamber at the City Hall. Lieut. Colonel Huger was recalled and further examined. Mr. Joseph R. Anderson, proprietor of the Tredegar Iron Works, at Richmond, (Va.,) was next called, and the court was engaged in taking his testimony, in relation to the matter in issue, until the adjournment. To-day Capt. Menadier was giving his testimony up to twelve o'clock.

The court and military attendants look imposing, and dignified, and oppressed in their broadcloth and gold.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT .- A little son of Mr. Francis R. May, 18th street, between F and G cent occasion of offering to the venerable Mr. streets, fell yesterday, while playing, from a balcony to the ground, a height of about twenty feet, striking a window-shutter of the first story in his descent. His chin was cut open, and his jaw-bone and one arm were broken. Dr. Burrows was promptly by the side of the little sufferer, and did all in his power for his relief; but we are informed that symptoms of tetanus or lock-jaw have to-day appeared.

The entire distance from Philadelphia to Pittsburg is now overcome by railroad to Johnstown, (279 miles,) and from Johnstown to Pittsburg by canal (104 miles) or stage (71 miles,) making in all 383 or 350 miles, in 34 or 44 hours. As the road west from Johnstown is being finished from point to point—20 miles west to Lockport, and 10 miles east from Pittsburg to Turtle Creek, being now nearly ready, and will shortly be opened for use—the saving of time and distance will be considerable. As soon as the whole line of road is finished, which it is hoped will be by the 1st of January, 1853, passengers will then pass from city to city in fourteen hours, without changing cars!
